100 PER CENT TAX ON CRIME
APRIL 5th WON; WALES
DANCED

JEREMIAH, whose specialty was lamenting, wrote: "There is sorrow on the sea; it cannot be quiet." You may substitute "Wall Street" for "sea," and it will still be accurate. There is sorrow in Wall Street and it, also, cannot be quiet.

YESTERDAY morning when "the Street" heard that the budget was balanced, stocks went up and all was as gay as the playing of fountains at Versailles.

Then somebody began thinking and the fountains stopped spouting. The thinker, perhaps said to himself: "The budget is balanced if." The budget balancing is done on the assumption that "sucking the rich" will yield all that is hoped for. As well rely on selling horns of the unicorn. There are no unicorns, although you may see them ornamenting Gothic tapestry and Britain's coat of arms.

ALSO, there are few rich left to be "sucked." You could say of New York, lair of the rich, the same Jeremiah said of another great city. "Concerning Damascus, Hamath is confounded, and Arpad; for they have heard evil tidings; they are faithless."

Pick out any two of the former "very rich" and they will answer the description of Hamath and Arpad. However, it will pass and you will be buying stocks and wondering why you did not buy at the bottom.

NEW YORK City may be in some ways like Damascus in the days of Jeremiah, but New York has more money.

Yesterday Mr. Berry, New York's controller, announced that he had collected in one day more than $74,000,000 in taxes, more than on the same day in 1931.

To some extent the misfortunes of property owners stimulate tax paying. A man with a mortgage must pay taxes or have his mortgage foreclosed. Many that would let taxes run dare not do so on account of the mortgage-holder.

THE SENATE on Tuesday voted to tax 100 per cent all incomes earned through violations of state or federal laws.

This indicates the opinion that our government is more efficient collecting taxes than in stopping crime. And that opinion is sound. We collect taxes, we do not check crime.

With a 100 per cent tax, bootleggers, racketeers and the army of crooked politicians will have nothing more to do with banks or safe deposits. Even the big tin box at home will not be safe from a vigilant government prying.

ONE MILLION Brits went to see April the Fifth, a 100-to-6 outsider, win the Derby. Millions were lost on the favorite.

The king, Queen Mary and all their children saw the horses run, and the night before the Derby, Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putman, our Atlantic ocean flyer, danced three times with the Prince of Wales at a

4TH DISTRICT PLANS PROGRAM TO AID CREDIT

Business Leaders Organize Drive to 'Help Everybody'

FANCHER NAMED COMMITTEE HEAD

15 outstanding industrialists To Make Recommendations

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, O., June 2.—Business leaders of the fourth federal reserve district were organized today to help everybody from the manufacturer to the home builder. Fifteen of the district's outstanding industrialists were appointed on a committee to devise means for freeing credit and to study all methods that might help put men back to work.

Fancher At Head
The committee was named by E. R. Fancher, governor of the fourth district, after a conference yesterday in which Eugene Meyer, governor of the federal reserve board at Washington, said this is no time for "apathy, indifference and a state of general helplessness."

Formation of the group is in line with similar movements in other federal reserve districts through which it is hoped to release $300,000,000 in excess reserves of the federal banks and thereby make ten times that much credit available.

The committee will make recommendations concerning pending or new legislation involving expansion of credit where needed, will endeavor to advance money to help the home builder and home owner, and will study the problems of the manufacturer, the merchant and the small business man.

Fancher declined to say what plans of action the committee has but expressed confidence it would function immediately and effectively.

Foundation Still Firm
Meyer told the conference that the nation had "absorbed" serious shocks, political and economic, both here and abroad, and expressed confidence that "the foundation of the United States is substantial enough to make a determined stand to prevent further business disintegration."

He said too much should not be expected immediately, but was confident that through cooperative methods results would gradually be obtained.

L. B. Williams, director and deputy governor of the Cleveland Federal Reserve bank, was named chairman of the committee.

LISBON, June 2.—A special session of the grand jury has been ordered by Judge W. F. Lones for Monday, June 13, when it is expected to clean up all unfinished criminal work.

There are a number of cases that Prosecuting Attorney John E. Baucknecht does not desire to hang over until the fall grand jury, although at this time no major cases are listed.

All magistrates have been informed by Prosecutor Baucknecht to file immediately all criminal transcripts, in order that time may be had to subpoena all witnesses.

School Artist Wins Acclaim; Will Seek Further Education

Editors, business managers, reporters, faculty advisers and all others who may have been connected with the production of student publications at Salem high school in the last year or so are thoroughly familiar with the problems that are associated with the task, and it must be said, from the standpoint of the observer, that the student publishers have disposed of them in a way that merits wholehearted commendation in every respect.

Every phase of the work has been striking in its efficiency. Among the more technical processes involved in the student publications has been that of art. This ceased to be a problem, however, the moment John Reeves sat down at his drawing board.

It is a secret that illustrating requires a highly specialized talent of its own, and it's no secret now, as John finishes his high school

$29,000 Prize Hop To Tokyo Fails

Here are scenes as Nat Browne's proposed $29,000 prize hop to Tokyo, Japan, came to grief in the water of the Pacific ocean shortly after it started.

Browne had hopped off from Seattle, Wash., in an attempt to span the vast stretches between the United States and the Orient over the treacherous Pacific.

In the photograph above, he is shown being rescued from the ocean by the crew of a speedboat which was nearby as Brown's ship plunged into the water after an attempt to refuel in the air.

The photo below shows the attempt to make contact with the refueling plane. An instant after the photo was made the gasoline hose fouled the rigging of Brown's plane and the plunge followed.

Browne lost his chance to go after the prize money inasmuch as June 1 was the last day in which contestants could enter.

Baby Operated On 40 Minutes After Birth; Recovering

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, June 2.—Officials of the Prospect Heights and Brooklyn Maternity hospital disclosed today that an appendix operation had been successfully performed on an infant immediately after birth.

The child, a boy, was born to Mrs. Florence Bryan on May 23. It weighed but three pounds and physicians who observed a serious hernia involving the appendix decided an immediate operation was imperative.

Forty minutes after the child was born he was in his crib, the operation successfully completed.

The boy has since then gained more than a pound and in a few days will be able to leave the hospital.

Bank Aid Faces Federal Warrant

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, O., June 2.—A second man faced possible prosecution today in connection with affairs of the closed Peoples National bank of Wellsville, O.

Ralph C. Merriman, former cashier, surrendered late yesterday to answer a federal warrant charging him with misapplication of $9,000. He pleaded not guilty and was released on $3,500 bail pending action of the next grand jury.

Merriman has been employed by the state auditor's department here in checking over an alleged $679,600 shortage in the county treasurer's office.

Assistant United States Attorney William J. McDermott said the alleged misapplication came to light in an investigation of the operations of Thomas A. Sheets, former cashier, who was indicted last week on a charge of misapplying $14,000. The money Merriman was alleged to have misapplied was returned the day before the bank closed.

The Kiwanis club has cooperated with the park commission and members of city council in effecting various improvements at the park.

CABINET AIDS ASSAIL PUBLIC WORKS PHASES

Mills and Hurley Attack Provisions of Democratic Measure

HAWLEY PRESENTS HOOVER PROPOSAL

Calls for States' Loans More Borrowing Power For R. F. C.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 2.—An administration relief program was put before congress today while two cabinet members were assailing the public works phases of Democratic measures before senate and house committees.

Hawley Introduces Measure
Representative Hawley (R. Ore.) introduced the administration measures which he said were drafted along the lines suggested by the President in his speech to the senate a few days ago.

At about the same time, the program was being explained to the senate banking committee by Secretary Mills during his attack upon the proposed bond issue for public works carried by the Democratic program.

The administration program called for $300,000,000 for relief loans to states and $1,500,000,000 more borrowing power for the reconstruction corporation for loans on self liquidating projects.

Would "Unbalance" Budget
The treasury head said the Democratic proposal for a bond issue would "unbalance" the budget.

Both he and Secretary Hurley, who was appearing at the same time before the house ways and means committee in opposition to a bond issue for public works, said the huge expenditures involved would give comparatively little aid to unemployment.

Woman Dies From Sedative Overdose

ALLIANCE, June 2.—Mrs. Della Brown, 50, of 7507 "Star avenue," Cleveland, died in the City hospital Wednesday from the effects of taking an overdose of a sedative while riding as a passenger on a Pennsylvania train Tuesday evening. She was removed from the train in an unconscious condition at the Alliance depot.

Coroner T. C. McQuate was notified of the death and was to come to Alliance Wednesday afternoon to investigate.

The conductor on the eastbound train, due here from Cleveland at 6:15 p. m., found Mrs. Brown unconscious in a seat in the train, with a bottle in one hand and three tablets in the other hand. The bottle was nearly empty, Captain H. L. Groves and Patrolman J. H. Towns reported.

Paul R. Ryan, of 1318 East 80th street, Cleveland, a son, told police, according to their report, that his mother started for work Tuesday morning and nothing more was heard from her. He said he could not give any reason for a possible suicide attempt except that she had been ill recently.

Bonus Marchers Head For Capital

(By Associated Press)
Bonus marchers—3,000 strong—were on the move for Washington today from half a dozen sections of the country, to join the 2,000 comrades now in the national capital to demand payment of the ex-soldiers adjusted compensation certificates.

Traveling in all sorts of "canions"—trucks, freight trains, automobiles and on foot—the marchers are determined to remain in sight of the White House until congress agrees to cash the certificates "if it takes all summer."

Asserting the demands for the payments are "for the common necessities of life" the veterans were congregating at various centers in the hope that transportation would be provided by senate officials to speed the veterans on their way.

Like Greta Garbo

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., June 2.—When a Los Angeles guy comes up here to Frisco it's just a country boy going to town. You have to take your spurs off here. You can't explain Frisco, it's just the Greta Garbo of the West.

Just come up through Stanford University at Palo Alto, and my son, a student there, couldn't tell me where Herbert Hoover's home was. He is either just dumb or a Democrat—could be both.

See the Senate took your money and balanced their budget. The whole thing is supposed to be based on what we earn this year. Somebody is going to get fooled.

CLEANLINESS

Adequate sanitation measures are essential to the health and the general welfare of a community. It would be sad to think of the consequences without regulatory laws of this nature.

The whole community benefits by the careful observance of these laws by each individual. One person's failure to comply with requirements may cause damage to a neighbor.

Dr. T. T. Church, city health commissioner, feels that a warning is sufficient for the average individual when neglect in some essential causes a threatening condition in his own particular area.

But, in the event a warning is not enough, he fully expects to follow up with action of a more definite and compelling nature. He is prepared to prosecute where conditions warrant.

Personal pride, it seems, should point the way. Cleanliness is not expensive.

TO PROVE IT CAN BE DONE

The gigantic tax bill passed by the senate and sent to final conference between the two houses of congress will gall the weary shoulders of the nation's taxpayers. It will be a punishing handicap to income and a constant reminder of the penalties of government. Severe as it is, moreover, it may not produce sufficient amounts of revenue actually to balance the federal budget.

The necessity of a theoretically balanced budget is the tax bill's excuse for being. It does not matter a great deal at the moment that there may be another deficit at the end of the fiscal year; it does matter that when the year starts next July 1, provisions will have been made to cover expenditures with income as closely as can be done with estimates based on expectations. The nations of the world are demanding a showdown. The United States has to prove that it can balance its national budget on paper at least. For the present it is a matter of intention.

There will come another and a more trying time when the United States will have to prove ability to balance its budget in fact. That will be later, months after it has tried out the extraordinary system of patchwork taxation that congress has conceived and enacted in desperation these last few weeks. There will be, in the meantime, many revisions of estimates, and upon their nature will depend, in the final analysis, the balancing of the budget. It is in the hands of fate, which are at least as dependable as those of panic-stricken congress.

President Hoover's emergency message to the senate Tuesday is a sign to the people, if one be needed, that the United States is passing through an important climax in its current history. Danger has been averted, presumably, by the senate's expeditious action in passing a tax bill that produces theoretical income equal to the amount of the government's expenses for the next fiscal year. That the people realize the necessity of assuming extra taxation burdens for the sake of national welfare is reflected in the sympathetic attention they have given to the President's messages.

Mr. Hoover's recommendation for a manufacturers' excise tax, included in his emergency message to the senate, was ignored pointedly by that body's finance committee. Later, the sales tax, a logical and practical extension of the principle embodied in the manufacturers' tax, was rejected by the senate. The sales tax, as a public issue, disappears for the present, as the result. Depend on it, however, that it will be discussed again, and each time more sensibly as opportunities are given to study its advantages and to compare them with the undemocratic operation of various forms of makeshift taxation. Experience with revenue the next 12 months may convince die-hards that income taxation is no longer fit to be the keystone of the tax system.

Confidence has been strengthened by President Hoover's action in using the influence of his office and the power of his mentality to move the senate out of the dog-drum in the direction of a theoretically balanced budget. Abroad and at home the air has been cleared. Unfortunately, the process has entailed needlessly ruthless action, whose effects will be felt long after the occasion has been forgotten. Taxpayers, who have waited before, now will stand aghast at the size of the portion of their incomes which the federal government will take. But it was necessary to prove to the world that the United States could be courageous enough to balance its budget. Proof will be available when the legislative mill finally grinds out the revised form of the extraordinary taxation bill that the senate passed last Tuesday.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York City

Don't Use Drugs For Insomnia

Few other things so depress the level of health and disturb the nervous system as the loss of power to sleep well. Insomnia is a real curse.

The average person requires about 8 hours of sleep daily, but children and old people are exceptions to this rule. Children require at least 10 to 12 hours of sleep, while the aged may find seven hours requisite for their needs.

Requisites for restful sleep are:
1.—A well-ventilated room.
2.—A comfortable bed.
3.—No heavy meals, tea or coffee before retiring.

4.—Freedom from worry.
During sleep the blood supply to the brain normally is somewhat lessened, and any condition tending to increase the supply will interfere with normal repose.

The causes of insomnia may be divided into groups. First, there is insomnia due to pain. Any type of pain may induce wakefulness. The pain in some blood diseases is severe at night, while muscular and joint pains are common in gouty subjects.

Pruritis, or itching, may banish sleep. Itching may be traced to diabetes, auto-intoxication, constipation or indigestion.

General irritability of the nerves may be at fault, and neurotic individuals are much inclined to attacks of insomnia.

Over-fatigue, worry or mental anxiety frequently cause insomnia. There is a real relationship between loss of sleep and the mental state.

Certain disturbances of the circulation of the blood drive away sleep. Arterial changes or heart weakness may make nights restless for convalescents from acute diseases.

An otherwise normal person may go to sleep at the regular hour, but waken sometime during the night and not be able to return to sleep. This is often due to indigestion or constipation.

To resort to drugs to induce sleep is decidedly dangerous. Many a drug addict began his downward career in this manner. If insomnia threatens to become chronic, the sensible thing to do is to consult a physician to discover the cause.

Taking a hot drink before retiring will sometimes induce sleep. Insomnia should not be neglected, for when it has become chronic it will break down the most rugged system.

Twenty Years Ago

(Issue of June 2, 1912)

Within a few weeks, Leon Davis and Herbert Church, Salem boys, will leave for a trip to the Old World, having made arrangements to join the annual tourist party conducted by a professor of Oberlin college.

Nerr Gaunt suffered a slight paralytic stroke Sunday afternoon while visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. A. Tetlow, corner of Howard and Dry sts.

Miss Myrtle Allen, pastor of the Friends church at Zanesfield, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Francis Rice, East Fourth st.

Mrs. M. Nell of West Dry st, left Monday morning for Indian Lake, Mich., where she will attend a state conference.

The formal transfer of the 52-acre tract of ground west off the city owned by J. Harold Brian and W. H. Dunn was made to the Salem Country club Saturday. This will be the new home of the club members.

Frank Harroff had his foot badly crushed Saturday in an accident at the National Sanitary Manufacturing company plant, where he is employed.

Although the month of May opened with cool weather, nearly down to the freezing point, the last two weeks brought summer heat and little rain.

The "votes for women" campaign will be formally opened in this city Tuesday evening.

Miss Myra Litty, student at the Cleveland Elbie institute, is home for the summer vacation.

Results

Classified ads. are alert salesmen on duty every night. They get results.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Manhattan's cultural currents have not completely dried up, despite Harlem hot cha-cha speakeasy flourishes, cocktail drag-outs and sundry manifestations of a world on the bust.

The visitor is naturally impressed with the pretentious phonies of the Broadway fury.

Sandwich parlors fill every dawn with debauches of the furious night. On every side in mid-town are the loose living imprints of fleas and the buckaroo. It is only after living here many years one cracks the veneer and beholds the New York of decent standards and singular sincerity.

Noonday lectures on current topics bring out capacity audiences. Morning musicals fill ball rooms of deluxe hotels. John McCormack can bring an over-flow crowd to Carnegie with a mere announcement of a recital over the portals. Sunday symphonies muster silk hats. So do gallery teas.

Ruth Draper and Cornelius Otis Skinner, in polite mimicry, do a big-business business than many high-priced leg shows. William Beebe and other explorers turn crowds away. Every ceramic exhibit attracts intellectuals to whom Broadway is as remote as Kamchatka.

Art film houses pay good dividends. In sedate modestly priced tea rooms one may often see such humanitarians as Helen Gould entertaining at dinner. The one restaurant in New York where smoking cigarettes by women is forbidden is always crowded. All of which is inspired by sight of a capacity audience at an afternoon lecture on Thoreau today.

The hip flask incidentally, has gone out like a light. Five years ago a dozen manufacturers were reaping a harvest. Today there are few takers. Drink toters carry booze in bottles, done in packages and handed to headwaiters to be served. This prevents bulging of clothing and leaving flasks on tables.

The other evening at vaudeville, a long performance and the failure of an electrical announcer to click caused the audience to arise en masse for the exits just as a quartet of hoop rollers came on to close the show. Only a handful, probably 20, remained. Yet not once did the act's routine sag. It was a pitiable snub, the unforgettable heart wrench for vaillant trouper. And when they rushed to the footlights for a final bow every cheek glistened with tears. And those of us who remained went out into the night with the suspicion of a choke.

Nor should I neglect to mention the loyalty of the orchestra—at the Palace, by the way—which stood as the curtain fell and gave the performers a rousing cheer.

The shyest violet of the editorial shops, it would appear, is the hardy essayist, E. B. White, who writes "The Talk of the Town" for The New Yorker. He never permits his name to appear in the magazine although on rare occasions he signs initials to some special article. Before chaining himself to a desk he was a wandering poet, floating here and there on trading ships and tramp steamers. In the sanctum he is known merely as "Andy" and is 32 years old.

HOLD CROMWELL FUNERAL RITES

Alliance Man Made Fortune from Old Car Axles During World War

ALLIANCE, June 2. — Funeral service for John C. Cromwell, 65, one of the original stockholders of the Alliance Machine company and founder of the Steel Sanitary company here, who died Tuesday at the home of a nephew near Cokimbus, was held yesterday in Joliet, Ill.

Cromwell was connected with the Carrett-Cromwell engineering firm of Cleveland when he became one of the founders of the Alliance Machine company. He served for a time as a director but later dropped out of the company.

Designed Steel Tubs

He also was interested in the Alliance Structural company and he designed the steel bath tub with which the Steel Sanitary company has been working. He served as general manager of that plant for a time and lived, for a while, in one of the hotels here.

Cromwell became interested in the Alliance industries through W. H. Purcell, president of the Alliance Machine company. He gained particular recognition from the fact that he made a fortune out of scrapped car axles during the World war. He originated the Cromwell bar mills, which were an improvement on the Belgian continuous mills for rolling bars. In 1914 he was in Europe and as he was about to leave for home the World war broke out.

He found that the French and English would need round bars for making shrapnel. On the boat from Europe, he met several French engineers enroute to the United States for war materials. Through his talks with them he decided that the Allies needed steel the size of railroad car axles for shrapnel. The steel was of the analysis needed for shrapnel.

Buys 75,000 Tons

After his return, Cromwell sent out inquiries for 30,000 to 40,000 tons of old railroad car axles and the scrap market was thrown into an uproar. Ultimately it was reported he bought 75,000 to 80,000 tons of scrapped axles, which he sold for shrapnel material.

He then founded the Cromwell Steel company at Lorain in 1916 and built a plant there with four open hearth furnaces. When business fell off, the mills were dismantled and sold.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Remotest substitute, 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Do you inhale?

Three little words that "upset the apple cart" in the cigarette trade

Do you inhale? Can any question be simpler? And yet—what a furore it has created! The cigarette trade feels that the public has been let in on a sacrosanct secret! "You've upset the apple cart," they say.

Why such anxiety? Certainly the public doesn't fear the question—for everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly...every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question

Social Affairs

Mother-Daughter Banquet Success

The Women's Foreign Missionary society and the Edna Thomas Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church sponsored a delightful social function Wednesday evening at the church—a "mothers' and daughters' banquet. Approximately 90 mothers and daughters enjoyed the occasion.

The objective of the affair was to interest the younger girls of the church in missions. The "mothers," members of the Women's society, corresponded with "daughters" in the church and their identity was not known until revealed at the banquet. As the "mothers" came in they were each presented a pennant of the Standard Bearer society, a missionary organization for young girls. The pennants, hand painted, were white with a blue cross on, and also bore the name of the girl who was their "daughter."

Mrs. E. F. Naragon, president of the Women's society, and Mrs. Floyd Stone, president of the Edna Thomas society, were in charge. Miss Eleanor McMurray had charge of the program and decorations. The tables were beautifully decorated with flowers. Each guest received a small corsage of varicolored flowers. Mrs. Stone presided at the banquet.

Mrs. Mary Carr Curtis, Damascus rd, retired missionary, gave the main talk in which she told of national workers in the missionary organizations, with whom she was personally acquainted. Impromptu talks were given by several guests. The musical part of the program included a vocal solo by Mrs. Glenn Harding with Mrs. Frank Stoudt at the piano; piano solo, Dorothy McConner; clarinet solos, Margaret Megral, accompanied by Marye Louise Miller, and group singing.

Mrs. S. A. Mayer had charge of a series of games.

Norris and Lewis Speak Candidly

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 2.—A pair of possible, but improbable future presidents swapped candid remarks in the senate chamber yesterday concerning one another's chances.

George Norris of Nebraska, the more-or-less Republican who objects to President Hoover and has been spoken of here and there as a third party choice, could see no need of adjourning for the Republican convention. Wasn't the outcome all settled?

What possible interest, inquired the Democratic favorite son of Illinois, Natty J. Ham Lewis, could the distinguished Nebraskan have in the Republican convention anyway?

No more, retorted Norris, than Lewis would have in the Democratic meeting by the time it was over.

TODAY

charity ball. It was an exciting day and night in London.

SENATOR CARTER GLASS of Virginia believes he has a better plan than the Goldsborough bill for increasing the money supply. He would make all government bonds eligible as a basis for issuing currency thus increasing the supply of currency in circulation by about $100,000,000.

One billion would help, but it is less than $10 per inhabitant and the country needs more.

CONGRESS, seeking to make itself popular, rejected a "sales tax." But you will find a good imitation of a sales tax when the new bill goes into effect.

It will cost more for letter postage, income taxes will be increased and you will pay taxes on cosmetics, jewelry, automobiles, candy, soft drinks. Congress discovered that socking the rich alone would not do, and the poor had to be socked to some extent, including the honest working girl, buying her complexion preparations.

19-Year-Old Girl Thwarts Bandits

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, June 2.—A 19-year-old girl, who said she wasn't afraid of a gun, and proved it, stopped four men from holding up her father's drug store last night.

Miss Ruth Ludwig was watching the store while her father, Robert Ludwig, was counting the day's receipts in a back room when the four robbers entered.

"Stick 'em up," said one and pointed a gun at her.

"Oh, no you don't," she said, and shoved him aside. "You get out of here," she ordered. "I'm not afraid of your gun."

As the gunmen tried to seize Miss Ludwig, the girl grabbed the barrel of his pistol and dared him to shoot. Her shouting frightened the invaders and they left empty-handed.

Lina and Rosita Are the Same Girl

(By Associated Press)
HOLLYWOOD, Calif., June 2.—Lina Basquette, film actress, and "Rosita Gonzales," to whom Jack Dempsey is very attentive, are the same person, the actress' mother, Mrs. Ernest Belcher, said today.

Miss Basquette and Dempsey are now in Reno, Mrs. Belcher said. Dispatches from the Nevada City said the former heavyweight boxing champion of the world had introduced the dark-eyed girl with him as "Miss Gonzales."

Mrs. Belcher said her daughter had assumed the name of "Rosita Gonzales."

Recently, Teddy Hayes, former trainer for Dempsey, charged Dempsey "stole" Miss Basquette from him. Dempsey denied any association with Miss Basquette. The actress fired Hayes as her business manager.

THE DAY IN SPORTS

INDIANAPOLIS CLASSIC
ONLY FITTEST SURVIVE

The terrific test of high speed over a circular, brick track has furnished the world with its annual Memorial day thrill. Another 500-mile race over the rough surface of the Indianapolis speedway passes from a reality of roaring motors and echoing crowds into the unreality of figures in the record book.

The Indianapolis classic is a ruthless process of elimination—the law of the survival of the fittest imposed on the men and machinery of automobile racing. Never was this aspect developed more clearly than this year, when, thanks to the elimination of faulty material before the race, there was not a single fatal accident to horrify the crowd.

Men lost their lives to make the race perfect. To prove their fitness to appear on the track in the most important of all automobile races, then went through exhaustive tests; some of them failed. Even so, only 14 of the 40 cars that went under the starter's flag lasted long enough to finish the race. Mechanical imperfection was not weeded out.

Fred Frame, the winner, is a tried veteran of racing—a man of steel nerves and tireless muscles, who hung grimly to the wheel of his bouncing racer to travel faster for a longer period of time than any other man in the world ever traveled on the ground under the same conditions. It is important that he will be able to enrich himself by approximately a quarter of a million dollars as the reward for his feat. It will mean further exposures to extraordinary danger, but that is part of the day's work in automobile racing. The reward is small for the effort and skill demanded.

The annual Indianapolis race is a fluted symbol of this age of machinery, which has elevated monsters of pistons, valves and gears to be served and worshipped by men—and sometimes cursed. It is not strange that many ask the question heard so often in seeking the explanation of the machine age: Is it worth the sacrifice?

CRAPPIES (shad) have been running large in size in lakes in the Salem district but it is doubtful if a more notable catch has been made since the season opened than that reported from Westville lake by Al Hepler of Salem. Westville is located on the Salem-Alliance road, east of Alliance, and is one of five lakes remaining open to public fishing through the spring season.

Fishing with a wet fly and leaving it sink several feet, Hepler took 18 shad that totaled 16 1/4 pounds. The largest measured 14 inches and tipped the scale at one pound 14 ounces. It is the prize shad of the season at Westville.

Perch and bluegills have also been caught in numbers but the catfish, both of bullhead and silver varieties, have not hit their stride yet. Bass fishing opens June 16.

Al Menegay, Canton angler, caught his limit in bluegills at Westville while fly fishing. Frank Eagleton operates the lake.

CIGARS-PENNZIP TILT CALLED OFF

Church League Games To Be Played Tonight; Four Scheduled

The Salem Hardware team, strong in all departments of the game and with "Duckey" Bard hurling a consistent type of ball, will prove a mighty hard club to beat out for the championship of the Salem Softball League.

Defeat Pottery, 2-1

The Hardware proved this Wednesday in a 2-1 victory over the Salem China company for its sixth consecutive victory and still is perched at the top of the circuit involving 11 teams with the best Salem has to offer in softball talent represented.

Bard, holding the Pottery to three hits, one of them a three-bagger by "Butch" Grice, and Arnold Seeds, Hardware right fielder, were the big stars of the game.

Seeds scored the first run of the contest in the first frame then, after the Pottery had evened the count in the seventh, drove in Pete Sartick with the winning marker.

Seeds had a perfect day at the plate, getting four singles, Mike Sartick, with two safeties, was the only other player to hit safely more than once.

Four Games Tonight

Harry Vincent twirled for the losers and was touched for nine hits. The Hardware fielded perfectly behind Bard's fine work on the mound, three misplays being made by the china-makers.

The other game, scheduled between the United Cigars and Brown's Pennzips, was postponed. Four church league games will be played on the two park fields this evening.

All city Class A league games will be played for seven innings starting Friday, Umpire George Early announced today.

M'Mullen Enters Meet in Chicago

Sharon McMullen, captain of Akron Garfield High school's track team and holder of district and state interscholastic records in the mile and half-mile runs, will represent Akron Saturday in the national interscholastic invitation meet at the University of Chicago.

McMullen will leave today for Chicago with his coach, Cori Zimmerman, former Mount Union college three-sport star, who has high hopes that his little Irish cinder artist may beat the national record in the mile event.

Salem High will not compete in the meet. Athletic Director Wilbur Springer announced today. Lack of funds to provide transportation is the main reason why the school will not be represented.

CHUCK KLEIN and DON HURST, Phillies—Their doubles in the eighth drove in the runs that licked the Giants.

JIMMIE FOX and MAX BISHOP, Athletics—Each hit a home run in the right spot, Fox, his 18th of the year, to beat the Yankees twice, 7 to 6, and 8 to 7.

LOYD BROW, Senators—Was not scored on until the ninth as he outpitched Bob Weiland of the Red Sox, 2 to 1.

Rain Ruins Record Of Cardinal Star

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 2.—Rain may be fine for the crops, but Eddie Delker, St. Louis Cardinal infielder is more interested in base hits.

Delker, sitting in at second base yesterday for Frankie Frisch, had not hit safely in 18 times at bat, and never had hit a major league home run.

In the first of the eighth yesterday he hoisted one over the left field fence. It started to rain a few minutes later, and the game later was called, the score reverting to the seventh inning, which nullified the homer and Delker's one hit of the day.

Pepper Martin also was cheated out of a homer, his coming just after Delker's, and just ahead of the rain.

Mount Union Ends Successful Athletic Year; Honor Allen

ALLIANCE, June 2.—Mount Union college has just closed one of the most successful seasons it has ever experienced in athletics from the standpoint of games won.

Win Large Laurels

While claiming but one Ohio Conference championship this season, Mount Union teams have been near the top in every other major sport entered. In football all conference games were won decisively.

baseball the Purple have won all but one on a six game schedule dropping a 2 to 1 battle to Muskingum at New Concord. This year's ball club is in many respects one of the strongest diamond outfits Mount Union has had. While placing fifth in the Big Six Mount made a higher score than in any previous year for a long time.

Had Bob Cope not been disqualified in the preliminaries his 138 foot discus throw would have given Mount five more and caused Wooster to be second instead of Muskingum.

Two Stars Graduate

Only two point men in Saturday's Big Six for Mount will graduate, leaving strong possibilities for the new athletic director, Robert D. Wright's future team. Leroy Raber and Leo Grimes, both four sport men and stars in all, will graduate next Tuesday leaving a feeling of great loss among sport fans here, but also giving opportunity for new aspirants to try for their place of fame.

Five previous college records have been broken by members of this track team they are: Discus, Robert Cope, 138 ft. 1 in.; shot, Leo Grimes 42 ft. 6 1/4 in.; pole vault, Lowell Allen, 12 ft. 10 in.; broad jump, Warren Smith, 21 ft. 11 3/4 in.; javelin, Leroy Raber, 190 ft. 5 in.

Lowell Allen Honored

Lowell Allen who won the Big Six pole vault from Spangler, has been invited to try out at Lakewood High field on June 11, for the Olympic field meet. Allen's best record was made in 1930 at the A. U. meet in Pittsburgh preliminary to the International meet with Great Britain at Chicago. At Pittsburgh he made 13 ft. 4 in. and took third in Chicago at 13 ft. 3 1/4 in.

Lettermen in track announced by Coach Robert D. Wright with points scored for this season are as follows: Warren Smith, 60; Bob Cope, 58 1-2; Lowell Allen, 50 1-3; Leroy Raber, 29; Ernest Buterbaugh, 27; Roger Fitzsimmons 27; Leo Grimes, 26; Clayton Schindler, 17; Esle Painter, 13; Dawson Curtis, 5 (1 1-2 in Big Six).

THEATER Attractions

"THE TRIAL OF VIVIENNE WARE"

This is the film version of the radio broadcast that has already created a sensation throughout the country. The screen play depicts the trial of a beautiful society girl accused of murdering her former sweetheart. The motive for the crime is set forth as jealousy.

So condemning is the circumstantial evidence that even her youthful attorney, who is in love with the prisoner, tries to induce her to change her plea of "not guilty" to one of self-defense.

Conviction seems a foregone conclusion. But does she escape from the web of circumstance that is being woven around her? The answer—the climax of the picture—is sensational and startling!

The cast includes such favorites as Allan Dinehart, Lillian Bond, Zasu Pitts, Herbert Mundin, Richard "Skeets" Gallagher, Howard Phillips, Ruth Selwyn and Maude Eburne.

Woman Is Arrested In Martin Retrial

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, June 2. — Peggy Myers, 25, alias Peggy White, and a male companion were arrested early today as an unexpected development in the retrial of "Pittsburgh Hymie" Martin for the murder of former Councilman William E. Potter.

The Myers woman was staying with Betty Gray, missing state witness, in the apartment house where Potter was shot to death Feb. 3, 1931. She had been previously questioned, but was released and did not testify in Martin's first trial.

The Gray woman testified in Martin's first trial that she saw him enter the building where the slaying occurred, then later repudiated her testimony and disappeared.

Trend of Memorial Day Is Criticized

The trend to make Memorial day a holiday, with sports claiming the attention of the people, instead of keeping it for the original purpose, is opposed by members of Philip Triem camp No. 43, Sons of Union Veterans.

This opposition was expressed by the camp at its last session and the attitude of its members toward this day is expressed as follows:

"Primarily and peculiarly, this day, known as Memorial day is, a Grand Army day, a day designated to be set apart to the strewing of flowers upon the graves of our soldier dead, as a loving memorial, and a grateful remembrance of those who in the time of our nation's peril, were willing to give their lives that this nation might live."

"Memorial day, as such, had its beginning due to an order issued by General John A. Logan, then the commander-in-chief of the grand army of the Republic, on May 5, 1868, for the placing of flowers or 'otherwise decorating the graves of comrades'."

Members of the Grand army at their encampment last year at Des Moines, Ia., by resolution designated the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil war to carry on this work, which, because of depleted ranks and the ravages of time they are being compelled to lay down.

REAL CREAM AT NO EXTRA COST

When you think of a delicious breakfast, you think of cream. But cream is expensive, you say. Surely it is—but not with the wonderful new Cream Top Milk Bottle.

Because every time your milk is delivered, you get a goodly quantity of real cream in the "top of the bottle." The thing is to separate the cream from the milk. Cream Tops do just that—quickly and thoroughly. You pour off the cream—the milk stays in the bottle.

Tomorrow morning and every morning, give your family a treat—with cream. Phone us 292. We'll start delivering your milk in the morning in Cream Top Bottles. It costs no more.
